

SU-PER[®] Rejuven8

Contains EIGHT Critical Amino Acids Essential for Recovery and Restoration!

Supports normal hormonal balance, immune response, and metabolism.

SU-PER[®] Rejuven8 is a combination of 8 isolated amino acids plus support nutrients, to help with recovery after exercise or other strains on the body, and for general health restoration from numerous everyday issues.

SU-PER[®] Rejuven8 aids proper pituitary gland function. The pituitary is the “Master Gland”, which is responsible for sensing the needs of the body, and properly regulates the functions of all the various glands and organs. Just a few of the many functions overseen by the pituitary gland are: metabolism, thyroid function, reproduction, growth and tissue repair, blood pressure, stress management, immune function, general hormone balance, and so much more. Proper pituitary gland function is key to optimal health of your horse.

Most minor issues such as hoof repair, joint health, and digestive issues have fairly good results from targeted supplementation most of the time if the issues aren't severe. However, there are often times when basic supplementation is not enough to correct the issue, is not giving the results you expect, or simply does not work at all. When targeted nutrition is not working as anticipated, or is only working at a fraction of what is expected, this may point to poor pituitary gland function as an underlying cause.

We've been making supplements since 1976. We have seen many instances where you just can't find the right solution to your horse's issues, or you are witnessing multiple (seemingly unrelated) issues, and you really don't want to be feeding several different supplements to address them all. SU-PER[®] Rejuven8 is one of those rare supplements that can be beneficial across the spectrum, and may be just the right fix for various issues. Once the pituitary gland is functioning at optimum levels, you may notice many minor issues simply resolve themselves.

In addition to pituitary support, each of the amino acids included have separate support functions in the body as well. From energy production, to coat health, to muscle recovery, to proper cellular hydration, these amino acids provide countless benefits in support of proper health and wellness.

SU-PER[®] Rejuven8 is a great tool for the performance horse as well, to aid in recovery after an event, and maintain health throughout the season. SU-PER[®] Rejuven8 can promote stamina, provide muscle and joint support, and help manage stress.

We also offer a post-event paste version called SU-PER[®] Rejuven8 NOW, which has added support nutrients to specifically help provide a boost in recovery, support muscle integrity, and help provide antioxidant support after competition.

The added ingredients are: Gamma Oryzanol, Betaine, Grape Seed Extract, and MSM

SU-PER[®] Rejuven8 NOW helps jumpstart the recovery process QUICKLY by immediately addressing proper hydration on a cellular level and neutralizing toxins that were produced during the burning of massive amounts of energy. It also works to begin replenishing energy stores, managing post-event stress, and maintaining proper immune function so that the normal recovery process is fast and efficient. Lastly, it protects muscle tissue and eases minor stiffness and soreness resulting from exercise.

We recommend a full tube of SU-PER[®] Rejuven8 NOW after any intense training session or event. You may also consider a daily serving of SU-PER[®] Rejuven8 powder if your horse generally is slow to recover from exercise, or if there are any general concerns with the health of the joints, hooves, coat, or metabolism. SU-PER[®] Rejuven8 powder can be a great benefit in maintaining proper health throughout the season, and help in preparing for the next event.
